1940 Incomes To Escape New Taxes

F. D., ADVISERS TALK REVISIONS TO AID DEFENSE

Encouraging Picture Of Fiscal Outlook Noted By Executives

TO ALTER DEBT LIMIT

March 15 Report To Have Vital Bearing On New Federal Structure

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—Following up their conference with President Roosevelt, congressional leaders and fiscal experts today planned new taxes in 1941 to help pay for the national defense program, but emphasized there will be no additional levies on 1940 income.

The decision to confine additional taxation to future income, and the assurance to American business that its present taxes will not be disturbed was reached at a White House conference last night during which the President, congressional leaders, and the fiscal experts found "an encouraging picture of the nation's fiscal outlook."

Meeting with the President for three and one half hours, the conferees also agreed on a study designed to eliminate overlapping of state and federal income taxes, and to withhold formulation of a definite program for new taxes until the treasury studies the March 15, 1941, income tax returns, which will reflect, for the first time, the two $1,000,000,000 tax bills passed by congress this year.

Included in the conference, which began with dinner with the President, were Sen. Harrison (D) Miss., chairman of the senate finance committee; Rep. Doughton (D) N. C., chairman of the house ways and means committee; Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau; Assistant Secretary Sullivan; Budget Director Smith, and Sen. George (D) Ga., chairman of a senate finance committee subcommittee.

Debt Limit Boost Talked

Bearing on the discussion of monetary problems, and the business outlook, Harrison said there was a discussion of the proposed increase in the debt limit to $65,000,000,000 in the light of "ample provision to be made either through increased taxes or through increase in the national debt to pay for the national defense program."

At the same time, Harrison said there will be no effort to pass a sales tax to increase revenues in view of the President's disapproval of this type of taxation a few hours earlier at his press conference.

Harrison and other fiscal experts emphasized that no decision has been reached on the type of (Continued on Page Eight)

YULE DECORATIONS WIN PRAISE OF C. C. OFFICER

In a letter to Mack Parrett, secretary of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce, William A. Mills, director of organization relations of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, praised Circleville's Christmas decorations as "outstanding."

The letter: "During the last week or ten days, I have been in all parts of Ohio and have had an opportunity of seeing a number of Christmas decorations."

"It was my privilege to drive through Circleville on Monday night and I thought you ought to know that, in my opinion, you and your associates in Circleville have done an outstanding job."

"I know of no community that I have visited so far, at least, that equals the eye-appeal that you get upon approaching the public square in Circleville."

THREE ALBANIAN PORTS WRECKED

Greeks Claim Big Force Of Italians May Be Isolated Soon

ATHENS, Nov. 30—While furious hand-to-hand battles raged on all fronts, Greek military authorities in Athens claimed today that three major Albanian ports have been wrecked by persistent Anglo-Greek air attacks.

In addition, they said, the entire Italian Expeditionary Force—estimated between 150,000 and 300,000 men—has been virtually isolated by the canny Greek encircling tactics.

(Editor's Note: A London radio broadcast picked up in New York by CBS said the Italian government radio complained because the Greeks are using bayonets—"barbaric and inhuman weapons.")

Latest reports said the Greeks were still advancing slowly through the tortuous mountains and forests of the front and experts in Athens expected an early (Continued on Page Eight)

AAA CHIEF HITS STAND TAKEN BY FARM GATHERING

John Boggs, county AAA chairman, Saturday, denounced the stand taken by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation against the government's conservation program as "biased and not representative of the farmers of Pickaway County."

The high percentage of Farm Bureau members in the county who have signed under the Soil Conservation Act indicates that the act has met with approval in the county, Chairman Boggs said, as he denied that county farmers were willing to "scrap" the AAA program.

Chairman Boggs did not deny, in fact, he indicated, that he believed the conservation program should be made more flexible and localized to fit the community.

Conditions indicate that the county may be forced to take a 12 percent cut in its corn allotment for 1941, the conservation officer said, because of a surplus of corn in the middlewestern states. However, in Pickaway County, the drought last summer cut corn production considerably. Conservation officers believe the AAA program should be set up so that allotments could be established according to surplus or shortage in each state or even each county. Such a plan would bring more benefit to local farmers, they pointed out.

In a resolution, passed by Farm Bureau delegates in Columbus, Friday, the federation let it be known that any "general policy of restricted production will bring us greater problems and possible disaster."

GERMAN AERIAL ATTACK CENTERS ON MANCHESTER

Great Manufacturing City Still Burning Several Days After Raid

NAZI CLAIMS REPORTED

400 Tons Of Explosives Poured On London Area During Night

LONDON, Nov. 30—Despite poor visibility, a large force of Nazi fighter-bombers roared over the Kent Coast today in an attempted daylight assault against London following the heavy battering meted out to the capital by 300 German raiders last night.

BERLIN, Nov. 30—A deadly German aerial attack on the great British manufacturing city of Manchester—also an important port—which occurred several days ago but was kept a close secret, was officially revealed in Berlin today.

German quarters claimed the attack "laid waste" the huge British cotton center and transformed the city into a "torch lighting the route for German raiders en route to Liverpool."

According to a German air force reporter, Manchester was attacked Tuesday night. Conflagrations there were still visible two nights later, when the heavy German raid against Liverpool was carried out, this account claimed.

Nazi quarters said a hail of high explosive and incendiary bombs fell on Manchester.

But only today did German authorities permit word to leak out that Manchester was the city meant by an announcement that "one other midlands town" had been subjected to a mass bombing attack.

London Area Blasted

At the same time, authoritative German quarters declared that 400 tons of high explosive bombs and 36 tons of incendiaries were dropped on London last night, causing extensive damage in the British capital. Hundreds of bombers participated in this attack, they said.

The air force correspondent, in a description of the Thursday night attack on Liverpool, said that while en route to that objective he saw a "stupendous conflagration which reddened the sky ahead of us."

He said an observer in the plane told him: "That's Manchester, where our lads struck two nights ago."

Fierly clouds covered the entire city, the air force reporter wrote. (Continued on Page Eight)

ROOSEVELT AND DIES AGREE ON 'ANTI' ACTIVITY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—Having assured President Roosevelt of his cooperation in fighting "Fifth Column" activities, Chairman Martin Dies (D) Texas, of the house un-American activities committee, today planned a conference with Attorney General Jackson.

The President and Dies, who have frequently been at loggerheads in the last three years, are understood to have reached a complete agreement and understanding for cooperation between the administration and the committee in the future.

Dies, however, has steadfastly clung to his assertion that methods by the Department of Justice in combating "Fifth Column" movements and preventing sabotage in defense industries are wholly inadequate.

The Texan planned to urge Jackson and the F. B. I. to revise its methods of counter-espionage in defense industries and in dealing with subversive movements.

Romania Armed Camp As Guardists Honor Martyrs

Sima Disavows Bloody Purge

VICE-PREMIER Horia Sima, leader of the pro-Nazi Iron Guard, shown saluting his followers in Bucharest, has disavowed responsibility for the blood purge in which at least 64 leading Romanians met violent death. The killings were in retaliation for the slaying of Iron Guard Leader Corneliu Z. Codreanu two years ago.

Plans Completed For O.S.U. Alumni Banquet

Graduates and former students of Ohio State University will gather next Friday at 6:30 p. m. in St. Philip's Parish House to participate in "Ohio State Day", being conducted wherever Ohio State men and women reside.

J. Wray Henry, Circleville High School principal and president of the Pickaway County Alumni Association, said Saturday that George W. Eckelberry, who has been associated with the university since 1914, would be the speaker.

A musical program is being arranged by Miss Elizabeth Reber, director of music at Walnut Township School.

Mr. Henry said that cards had been mailed to all Ohio State men and women, the cards to be returned for reservations.

Mr. Eckelberry's advancement in university ranks has been steady. He started in 1915 as an assistant in Economics and Sociology. Subsequent advancements were to an instructorship, to an assistant professorship, a full professorship, and then in 1922 to the chairmanship of the Department of Accounting. It was from that position that he was called to become assistant to the president.

He returned to a full professorship in accounting in July of this year, after twelve years as assistant to President George W. Rightmire.

Between times he has carried on additional work which has qualified him to pass both the bar and the certified public accountants examinations. With his return to teaching, he took from his brown paper coverings the manuscript of a textbook on accounting which he had started twelve years ago, but has not had time to complete since accepting administrative responsibilities.

A life-long resident of Ohio, Eckelberry was born at Zaleski, Vinton County and graduated from Spencerville High School. He started his college career at Ohio Wesleyan, coming to Ohio State for later study.

FOUR BIG BATTLESHIPS SAIL FOR PEARL HARBOR

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Nov. 30—Four United States battleships and the cruiser Portland were en route to Pearl Harbor today.

The ships were slated to hold a rendezvous at sea with a flotilla of destroyers from the San Diego base and then proceed to the islands.

The contingent of battleships was headed by the U. S. S. Mexico, flagship of Admiral James O. Richardson, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet. Other warships were the Idaho, the Mississippi and the Oklahoma.

100,000 In Line Of March During Funeral

KING IN HIDING

Sima Trying To Restore Order In Capital

BUCHAREST, Nov. 30—With more than 100,000 green-shirted Iron Guards participating and with tension in Bucharest high, an elaborate state funeral was held today for former Iron Guard Leader Corneliu Codreanu and 14 other "Iron Guard martyrs."

Services were held at the Bucharest cathedral for the men, executed during the regime of former King Carol. Codreanu was killed two years ago "while trying to escape" from his guards who were escorting him to prison after he was convicted of treason.

Codreanu's body and those of his followers were exhumed for today's ceremonies. After the church services, the Iron Guards marched behind the 15 coffins from the cathedral to the Iron Guard headquarters.

Baldur von Schirach, military governor of Vienna, placed a wreath on Codreanu's catafalque on behalf of Chancellor Hitler. The Italian envoy represented Premier Mussolini in a similar capacity.

Young King Michael, who succeeded his abdicated father to the throne, was not present. He has not left the royal palace for three days owing to the widespread disorders and assassinations begun when Iron Guard firing squads executed 64 former officials accused of responsibility for Codreanu's death.

Guard Out Of Control

Romania, and particularly the Bucharest area, was like an armed camp as Vice Premier Horia Sima, Iron Guard leader, struggled to regain control over his followers.

Bucharest itself was occupied by three divisions of crack Romanian troops and a considerable number of German troops, alert for action at an instant's notice.

Meanwhile, in an effort to gain support from the army, Premier Ion Antonescu issued a decree cancelling the death sentence.

DOVER, Eng.—German long-range guns on the French coast shelled the Dover area for nearly an hour before dawn today. No casualties or damage were reported.

Hope Abandoned For Men Caught In Cadiz, O., Pit

Cause Of Terrific Explosion, Trapping 25 To 27 Workers, Unknown; Natural Gas Pocket May Have Been Hit

ALL VICTIMS ARE FEARED DEAD

No Signals Heard From Ohioans; Expert Crews On Hand; "Things Look Bad," Declares Kerr, State Inspector

CADIZ, Nov. 30—Recovery of two bodies was announced as rescue workers pushed through tons of debris today in an effort to reach an estimated 30 more miners trapped by an explosion in the Ohio-Pennsylvania coal mine near Cadiz.

At the same time, John Owens, Ohio president of the United Mine Workers of America, declared following a checkup that there was "no question that all were dead." Owens set the number of victims at 32.

CADIZ, Ohio, Nov. 30—Hope was virtually abandoned early today for the 25 to 27 miners entombed by a terrific explosion at the Ohio-Pennsylvania coal mine, four miles east of Cadiz. It was the second major coal mine disaster in the same vicinity in nine months.

Rescue crews doggedly battled continuing stone falls in their desperate efforts to reach the trapped men, still separated by 2,000 feet of fallen rock from the precious air supply. While mine officials were loath to comment, it was believed that even if the entombed miners survived the blast, which was improbable, their air supply had long since been exhausted.

SUPPLY OF TOYS GAINED AT SHOW HELPS FIREMEN

More than 200 Circleville youngsters arrived at the Grand Theatre at 10:30 a. m. Saturday, each with the admission price of one toy.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise was well pleased with the assortment of toys, and said it would swell the fire department's Christmas toy pile to twice its present size.

The toys were taken to the fire department Saturday noon where they will be sorted, the broken ones repaired, and distributed on December 24 to the city's underprivileged children.

Firemen welcomed the large supply of toys received Saturday morning, since their toy pile is unusually small this year. Fire Chief Wise reported Friday that unless the supply of toys increased substantially within the next couple of days, the Christmas campaign would have to be dropped.

Firemen were more optimistic Saturday after the supply turned in by youngsters attending the toy show was received.

FRENCH LEADER, SIX OTHERS DIE IN PLANE CRASH

VICHY, France, Nov. 30—Jean Chlappe, former Paris prefect of police, was shot down accidentally by British planes over the Mediterranean on Wednesday while en route by air to assume his post as governor of French-mandated Syria, it was announced officially today.

After his plane was hit, the announcement said, Chlappe sent out an SOS saying: "We are falling."

Chlappe's last words to Premier Henri Philippe Petain before leaving Vichy on the journey that ended in his death were: "I will defend Syria."

All seven persons aboard the plane were killed, including the famous French Pilot Guillaumet. The official French version said the plane was shot down accidentally by British planes while flying through the middle of the air-naval battle that occurred between Anglo-Italian naval forces on Wednesday south of Sardinia.

BRIGGS FACTORY SCENE OF LABOR DIFFICULTY

DETROIT, Nov. 30—Officials of the UAW-CIO and the Briggs Manufacturing Co. today indicated they would negotiate over the week end in an effort to end the dispute at the Briggs Co., which threw 20,000 men out of work in the Briggs Co. and the Plymouth division of the Chrysler Corporation. The men were not working on defense orders.

Army and Navy Show Attracts 100,000 Crowd

Philadelphia Stadium Scene Of Tussle; Neither Team's Record Among Best

By Lawton Carver

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30—This usually quiet and sedate city was caught today by its annual spasm of football madness, with 100,000, or a few less spectators jamming their way into the gigantic and frigid Municipal Stadium to witness the golden anniversary encounter between Army's riddled forces and the slumping Navy eleven. The spectacle attracted service men and innocent bystanders from everywhere, as usual; slightly adverse weather conditions were predicted, also as usual; but contrary to custom, the Middies were favored this time.

The possibility of a falling off in attendance for the spectacle was foreseen, with an unprecedented

FORDHAM PLAYS FOR CHANCE AT SUGAR CONTEST

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 — There was more at stake today than just another football victory as Fordham clashed with New York University for the 22nd time on the gridiron.

Should Coach Jimmy Crowley's charges, 4 to 1 favorites over a comparatively weak Violet eleven, win, in all probability they will be invited to play in the Orange Bowl in Miami on New Year's Day. It has been reliably reported the Rams have the invitation contingent on victory in this, their final game of the 1940 season.

BILL CONN WINS EASY BOUT FROM SAVOLD IN EAST

By Pat Robinson

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—Light-heavyweight Champion Billy Conn today looked forward to a probable June date with Joe Louis after doing quite a paint job on one Lee Savold, an ex-bartender heavyweight from Des Moines.

At the end of 12 monotonous rounds last night the referee, two judges, 13,000 cash customers and Savold himself agreed that he might have done a little better if he had been able to swing one of his old bung starters on Conn.

As it was, Savold won only the last round and that one only because the referee gave it to him when Conn let a left hook stray out of bounds.

As a test to prove Conn's right to meet Louis, the fight was a complete flop. It only served to prove what everybody already knew, to wit: That Billy is still the world's best light-heavyweight; that he is a matchless boxer; that he can't punch hard enough to flatten a rugged heavy-weight; and he probably never will weigh much more than the 174½ he weighed last night.

Nevertheless, he probably can lick all the heavyweights in the ring today with the exception of Joe Louis and Bill is more convinced than ever that he knows how to outbox Louis.

Savold scaled 186½ but he carries most of that poundage below the ears. He fought one of the dumbest fights ever seen in the garden. He must have been saving his right hand for a souvenir for the folk back home because he rarely risked throwing it in Conn's direction.

Bowling News

Ralston-Purina League Bobcats continued to lead the pack in the company's 10-pin league, holding a string of 18 victories against nine defeats. The Bearcats remain in second place with 15 and 12, the Wildcats are in third with 11 and 16 and the Alleycats bring up the rear with 10 and 17.

Friday's results follow Bobcats winning two from the Wildcats and Bearcats taking the same number from the Alleycats.

Best total for the evening was pegged by Tom Tomlinson of the Bobcats who toppled 577 pins, his 234 shot being high of the league in the league. L. Cook, with 507, was also over the 500 mark.

and Utah were still being considered.

Dr. Robert Homan, Sun Bowl chairman, said a definite selection will be made tomorrow. Western Reserve has already voted to accept if it is invited.

SEVERAL FIVES IN COUNTY RACE SHOW STRENGTH

Ashville, Deercreek, Monroe And Scioto Finish On Top In Friday Games

WASHINGTON '5' BEATEN

Forquer Returns To Pace Last Year's Champions With 15 Points

Continued improvement of the Ashville High Broncos and Deercreek's upset of Washington Township's veteran team featured Friday evening's cage contests in the Pickaway County League.

Results were:

Varsity
Ashville 41, Walnut 26.
Deercreek, 29, Washington 16.
Scioto 21, Perry 13.
Monroe 33, Darby 17.

Reserves
Ashville 17, Walnut 13.
Deercreek 31, Washington 15.
Scioto 27, Perry 20.
Monroe 26, Darby 8.

George Forquer, veteran of last year's county championship team, returned to the lineup for the Ashville boys Friday evening and peppered the ball through the hoop six times from the field and three times from the free throw circle. Swisher added nine points, Wilson seven, Foreman six and Cloyd four to make the total.

Coach Jimmy Rawn of the Walnut team was not displeased with the defeat, which he took on his own court, declaring that his boys showed improvement in all departments of play. Cook, a forward, scored 10 points for Walnut.

First Half Crucial

A big first half gave the Deercreek boys the advantage over Washington, the Williamsporters on their home court jumping out to a 19-5 edge. Washington led the way 11 points to 10 in the last half, but couldn't cut into the big first half advantage.

Williamsport scoring was evenly divided, West leading the parade with eight counters. Matz had seven for the losers.

The Scioto-Perry game on the latter court was a roughy, Coach Don McKay of the losers reported, the contest being spoiled by under-officiating. Perry held a 10-8 edge at halftime, but couldn't hold it.

Timmons, Schooley and Bauhan accounted for 18 Scioto points.

Monroe's veterans, Willoughby and Reid, were too rough for the Darby Township defense in their contest played at Derby.

New Holland and Saltcreek played their league games Wednesday evening, the former winning while Pickaway and New Holland were scheduled outside the county Friday night.

McCLAIN EASY VICTOR OVER BAINBRIDGE FIVE

Greenfield, foe of Circleville High School next Friday night on the Highland County court, won an impressive 49-24 game Friday from Bainbridge in its first effort of the season.

McClain scoring was led by Eldon Newland who hit the hoop for seven buckets from the field and two from the charity line. Don Grate added five actions playing center.

Others in the Greenfield starting lineup were Davis, Riley and Mossbarger.

Christian Union Church Undergoing Remodeling; Big Addition Is Made

1,600 Feet Of Space To Be Available; Revival Being Conducted

An additional 1,600 feet of floor space is being added to the Church of Christ in Christian Union, the Rev. O. L. Ferguson, pastor of the church has announced.

The new addition to the church, which has been under construction since October 1, includes three rooms, two 14 by 16 feet and one 24 feet square with a basement underneath.

The Rev. Mr. Ferguson stated that the addition will increase the Sunday School's class room space considerably providing accommodations for about 200 more persons. The project is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

Crowded class room quarters at the church have made the addition necessary, the pastor said. It was hoped the addition could be completed by last week when revival services began at the church, but the project is taking longer than had been expected.

Revival services at the church are being held each evening at 7:30 with the Rev. O. E. Leonard, missionary from Africa, as the Evangelist. Special music for the services is being furnished by the Girls' Chorus of the church. The services will continue through next week, the Rev. Ferguson said.

CHURCHES PLAN TO BUY HEALTH STAMPS SUNDAY

"Controlling tuberculosis is a community problem. The church, as an important part of any community, should be interested in the campaign against this disease," Dr. B. F. Lamb, executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, stated when adding his appeal to that already made by Dr. R. H. Markwith, state director of health, for all Ohio churches to observe December 1 as Tuberculosis Sunday. The observance of this day is a part of the annual Christmas Seal Campaign.

"Each year innumerable homes are broken because one or more members of a family have become the victims of tuberculosis. All churches, with their realization of the importance of a united family life, may well take part in a campaign which has as its objectives the protection of the home through the prevention and eradication of this disease," said Dr. Lamb.

The annual Christmas Seal Sale was opened Monday, November 25 by the Ohio Public Health Association and its affiliated county-wide organizations. These anti-tuberculosis associations carry on the Seal Sale each year in order to raise funds for local, state and national education and prevention programs. The 1940 Campaign will continue to Christmas Day.

Jesus took five loaves and two fishes, and looking up to heaven, He blessed them, and brake and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude; after all did eat there were left twelve baskets full.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Luke 9.

Taking Peter, John and James, Jesus went up into a mountain to pray, and as He prayed, His face was altered and His raiment became white and glistening, and the prophets Moses and Elias were with Him.

A man brought his only son to Jesus to be healed of an evil spirit, and as they talked the spirit threw the child on the ground and bruised him, but Jesus cast the demon out and gave the child back to his father.

A man told the Lord that he would follow Him but Jesus answered: "Foxes have holes and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man hath not where to lay His head." (GOLDEN TEXT—Luke 9:62)

HIGH PERCENTAGE OF COUNTY CHILDREN VACCINATED, IMMUNIZED

HEALTHIER LISTS DATA COVERING SCHOOL VISITS

Record Established During Work Among Youngsters Of District

The percentage of Pickaway County school children vaccinated for smallpox and immunized against diphtheria is higher now than at any other time in the history of the county health office, a report released Saturday by Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner, revealed.

The report shows that approximately 300 school children have been vaccinated for smallpox during the month and that an equal number has been given toxoid immunization, bringing the total number of immunized students in the county to 2,530, or 69 percent, and the total number vaccinated to 2,276, or 62 percent of the total school enrollment.

The county health program has included complete physical examinations for 650 children, and where physical defects were found students were recommended to consult their family physician.

No cases of diphtheria have been reported in the county this fall, the report shows. Likewise there have been no cases of typhoid fever, undulant fever or tularemia. During November there were no new cases of tuberculosis or of infantile paralysis in the county.

Paralysis Mild

Cases of paralysis have been mild and county health officers report they expect all victims to recover completely and without permanent disabilities. Both Elaine Stoker, 12-year-old Atlanta school girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stoker of near Atlanta, and Fay Isaac, Circleville Route 1, seventh grade Corwin Street school girl, show no signs of carrying permanent injuries. Dr. Blackburn has reported. City health authorities have announced that 4-year-old Glenn Lawrence Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Thornton, 328 East Mound Street, has completely recovered from the disease.

Two mild cases of scarlet fever, one of which is still under quarantine, were reported during November. Health officers also reported that during the month there have been scattered cases of mumps, measles, whooping cough and chickenpox. One case of dumb rabies in a dog was reported, and three persons exposed to the dog are now taking anti-rabic treatments, Dr. Blackburn said.

Skin-Testing Starts

Preparations for the tuberculin skin-testing program to start in the county schools Monday have been completed. Dr. Smith from the state department of health spent four days in the county and accompanied by Dr. Blackburn visited all the high schools in the county, including Circleville, and showed a sound picture on tuberculosis as a preview to the skin-testing program. The picture was seen by 3,140 school children and teachers of the county.

Dr. Blackburn expects that about 600 high school students and faculty members in the county will be given the skin test.

During November, Health Nurse Margaret Hunsicker assisted Dr. Blackburn with 77 school examinations, including 59 smallpox examinations and 44 diphtheria immunizations. She delivered 29 birth certificates during the month and conducted 31 conferences.

ROMANIA ARMED CAMP AS MARTYR RITES ARE HELD

At the same time, the government rushed a division of troops to Brasov, where street fighting has been in progress since Thursday.

Latest reports indicated Iron Guards were fighting against the Antonescu government's forces in the Ploesti oil fields and among themselves in Bucharest.

(Editor's Note: Dispatches from Budapest said Romanian quarters feared Germany would use the Iron Guard massacres as an excuse for declaration of a protectorate over Romania. Five hundred Iron Guards were reported under arrest for alleged complicity in the recent mass murder of 2,000 Jews.)

Meanwhile, the Romanian defense ministry emphatically denied that the forces of German military "instructors" in Romania had been increased or that large numbers of Romanian generals had resigned because of the Iron Guard violence of the last few days.

"Antonescu was prepared to establish a full-blown military dictatorship in the event of trouble arising from the Coderanu funeral."

Tension between the Romanian army and the Iron Guard appeared to be at white heat.

(Budapest heard continued report that young Romanian King Michael was fleeing to Italy to join his mother, Queen Helen, in exile.)

MOTORIST FINED $25

future additional taxes to be levied. The senate finance and the house ways and means committees, together with the treasury, will begin studying "the problem" the first of the year, Harrison said. He added that the heads of the treasury and the committees will hold "frequent conversations" prior to the convening of the next session of congress.

Conferees said that Budget Director Smith told the conference that the National Defense program will necessitate "heavy expenditures," but they declined to reveal whether Smith estimated the total budget necessary for the next fiscal year.

CADIZ, O., MINE TRAGEDY SCENE

Black Powder Not Used

Black powder, he said, was not used. It was black powder which was blamed for the initial explosion which set off a series of blasts March 16 at the nearby Willow Grove mine, in which 72 miners lost their lives. The Willow Grove blast was the worst in Ohio's history.

The mine area presented an eerie spectacle during the night as relatives and friends braved freezing weather to keep watch at the scores of tiny fires which dotted the surrounding hills. Ambulances from Cadiz and surrounding towns stood ready at the mine's two entrances, and highway patrolmen were assigned to keep the thousands of curious in order.

Kerr said that not a single signal of any sort had been received from the entombed miners. "We're making very slow progress," he added, "and things look bad. We still have about 2,000 feet to go, and we haven't heard a thing from the men. Their only hope would have been to reach a finished mine room, and even then I fear for their air supply."

Ohio Industrial Relations Director George A. Strain and his assistant, Nelson Hovey, hastened to the mine to aid in the rescue work.

Among the rescuers were Tom Gettings, hero of the Willow Grove blast, where he brought out 24 men, and Harry Stanley, one of those rescued at Willow Grove.

SAWYER CHILD, 2, DIES; SERVICE TO BE MONDAY

Surviving are the parents, George and Mabel Marvyn Lowery Sawyer, and a sister, Mabel Marvyn.

The funeral will be Monday at the Albough Chapel at 2:30 p. m., the Rev. R. T. Kelsey officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

and "furnished us with an excellent landmark for navigation." Last night's raid on London was termed one of the heaviest in recent weeks, and official quarters hinted that rather than abating, mass attacks against England will be intensified.

First reports from the returning pilots stated 10 conflagrations and 15 smaller fires were raging in London, which was attacked by 300 German planes.

More Attacks Near

It was pointed out, however, that this assault on London was not considered by German authorities as comparable to the mass raids against Coventry and Liverpool. There were strong indications that further major attacks will be delivered on the British capital in the near future.

In the attack on Liverpool Thursday night, it was claimed, 360 tons of explosives were dropped on that city.

In addition to London, official quarters said, Birmingham, Liverpool and Plymouth were attacked on a smaller scale.

THREE ALBANIAN PORTS WRECKED

Aerial hammering of Italian and Albanian ports and "complete destruction" of Santi Quaranta (Porto Edda), Valona and Durazzo was said to have achieved 90 percent obstruction of Italian troop transportation.

Continual bombing of land communications in Albania has almost completely cut off Italian troops from their home bases, it was claimed.

Explaining the silence of the Greek high command regarding developments, Athens authorities said the conflict has now entered its most critical stage and that secrecy therefore is essential.

They added that the chances of the Italians depend on their ability to consolidate a strong line on all fronts—otherwise they will be "dispersed completely."

THE GARDEN CLINIC

By VICTOR H. RIES, O. S. U. Horticulturist

QUESTION: I have a mulberry tree that has been attacked by some pest at the base of the trunk. A large portion of the trunk has been eaten into and I fear for the tree's life. Can you tell me what this might be and how to get rid of these pests? Will it be necessary to have the base filled with cement or some similar substance? L. F., Cincinnati.

ANSWER: It is naturally impossible to identify the pest that has been eating the base of your mulberry tree without having more definite information in regard to it. Incidentally, unless a cavity is fairly large, it is not necessary to fill it with concrete but rather to clean it out, leaving no decayed wood, and allow the bark to heal over. Besides, I doubt very much whether a mulberry tree would be worth the cost of filling such a cavity. May I suggest you consult some local tree man specializing in this work and get his diagnosis and estimate of the cost of its control.

QUESTION: Last year our sight saving class had a flower project. I was given a small plant called the Bryophyllum. It has grown so large that now it must be transplanted. Is it a house plant and is this a good time to transplant it? B. G., Canton.

ANSWER: The Bryophyllum which grows wild in Florida has to be grown as a house plant here. Its main interest is its ability to produce young plants all around the edges of the leaves whether they are on the parent plant, fallen and lying on the ground, or plucked up on a curtain. They may be potted in any good garden soil.

QUESTION: About the middle of September we sowed grass seed in the yard of our home. The seed bed was in good condition as we disced and dragged it a number of times. We had a man from one of the large lawn seed companies do the sowing. We used 125 pounds of a 10-6-4 lawn fertilizer. Due to the dry weather, the grass did not come up for almost six weeks and then in spots. Some of it is about an inch high and some just coming up. Now we are wondering if there is anything we can do to protect it during the winter. Would you advise covering with straw and also a light covering of manure? We are anxious to get a nice lawn started and will appreciate your help. D. E. D., Middleburg.

ANSWER: I would never put manure on a lawn because it not only tends to smother the grass, especially new seed, but also puts in many weed seeds. At the most, I would put on a light mulch, not over a quarter-inch thick, of some fine material such as peat moss, clover chaff, or alfalfa chaff. I feel that most people do more harm to their new lawns by smothering them with mulches than the winter would do if they had left them unprotected.

QUESTION: I have some magnolia seeds I wish to plant but do not know how deep to plant them nor how long a time they require to germinate. Can you advise me? Mrs. T. S., Checotah, Oklahoma.

ANSWER: Magnolia seeds, like those of most woody plants, require stratification over winter. Since, if they are planted in the open ground, they have a tendency to rot, may I suggest that you remove the pulp from the seeds, put them in a pot or box of sand and put them out-of-doors over winter? Planted a half-inch deep next spring, they should come up within a comparatively short time.

QUESTION: Do Chinese elms make satisfactory hedge plants or do their roots rob nearby plants and grass of food and moisture? Mrs. T. S., Checotah, Oklahoma.

ANSWER: We feel that in Ohio where we can grow other more satisfactory shade trees that Chinese elms are best used as hedge plants. Being rather profusely and finely twigged, they make compact hedges if sheared regularly. If their growth is restricted by pruning, I do not believe you will have any more difficulty with their roots than with those of any other hedge.

QUESTION: We have herewith inclosing a pest that we find in a crevice of our brick porch. We are very much disturbed over the appearance of this bug for we have used scalding water, and lye to rid us of them but we are still infested with them. Will you be kind enough to advise us just what this bug is and how we can get rid of them? Mrs. D. D. M., Coal Grove.

ANSWER: This pest is the box elder bug and it breeds only on the female or fruiting plants of the box elder. If you will cut out any seedbearing box elder trees that you have you will do away with this pest. Otherwise, there is apparently no way to control them. They hibernate in houses and cellars and in all sorts of cracks and crevices.
